DICKENS' READING TOUR.

The Demand for Seats at His American Appearance—A Harvest for Speculators.

Two hundred and twenty-eight thousand dollars for seventy-six readings. Such was the record for a four month tour in the States in the winter of 1867-1868—an average of $3000 a reading. While it is unlikely that a return trip would have proved so remunerative, yet any manager could safely have guaranteed him $1,500 or even $2000 a night for another series of a hundred or more readings. Perhaps no more popular novelist has ever lived. But more than that, Dickens was equally popular as a reader and as a writer, so that those who heard him once were eager to hear him as often as he appeared. Just from the manager's standpoint, moreover his tour of America included not more than a dozen Eastern cities.

It is quite impossible to imagine the tremendous enthusiasm which his readings created. In Boston, where his series of four readings was to be given, the tickets were placed on sale on a Monday morning two weeks in advance. By ten o'clock of the preceding night a line had begun to form in front of Ticknor & Field's publishing house and by morning it had extended for fully half a mile.

Some brought chairs, others blankets, and a few carried mattresses on which to rest during the night. When the selling rally began it continued for eleven hours until the entire capacity of the hall had been sold for the series—twelve thousand dollars for the four nights. Many of the tickets fell into the hands of speculators who had no difficulty in selling choice seats at $10 each, and a few were sold at more than $20.

Indeed, the speculators followed the manager, Mr. Dolby, from one city to another to carry on their trade and in spite of every attempt to prevent their securing tickets they did a profitable business, so willing were people to pay any price for seats. The winter was unusually severe, yet in every city people stood in line all night to secure tickets. In New York, Philadelphia and Washington and the early tickets buyers stood out in a heavy snow with the thermometer below zero, good-naturedly enduring the hardships in order that they might get choice seats.

In Brooklyn the line had formed early the night before the sale of tickets, and to protect themselves from the cold weather the men built a huge bonfire in the street around which they spread their blankets and mattresses. But when the manager, George Dolby, arrived the next morning they greeted him with good natured chaffing. "Hello, Dolby!" "How's Charley this morning?" "We're frozen to death waiting for you, but we will buy you if you will let us." As good as their word, the sale during four hours amounted to $20,000, when it was closed because the capacity of the church had been sold.

BIG GENERAL ELECTRIC ORDERS.

Contracts Just Received for More Than $1,000,000 Worth of Work.

Schenectady, July 27.—Orders for nearly $1,000,000 worth of work have just been received by the General Electric company. Most of the work will be done at the plant here. This batch of orders is one of the largest received by the company since the business depression of last fall. The orders are from the Italian canal commission, Hitae & Co. of Japan, the Australian General Electric company and the Pueblo Tramway Light and Power company of Mexico.

Importance of Decision.

The opinion handed down by Judge Watson from the Supreme court in the Wilkins-Brock case Thursday afternoon was one which materially effects the medical profession. It was held that it is not enough for the plaintiff in a suit to show that a patient has suffered injury while being treated by a physician, but he must show that the injury was due to lack of skill in the treatment of the case. In this case it was not shown that Brock lacked in the skillful treatment of the patient. Mrs. Wilkins and the testimony only shows that she was injured. Another point is that if a servant is included in a suit the servant can not testify in favor of the real defendant in the case. There is, it is understood, a move on foot to have a law enacted which will change this statute.

Recent Deaths of Vermonters.

James Todd died at his home in Rutland Wednesday after a long illness. He was born in Brandon May 16, 1804. He had been in the employ of the Howe scale company for about 35 years. Mr. Todd was married December 27, 1879, to Miss Hattie N. Ward of Brandon, who survives him. He was a prominent Mason, being a member of St. Paul's lodge of Brandon, Davenport chapter, Royal Arch Masons, Killington commandery, Knights Templar, and Cairo temple, Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. He had been a member of the Methodist church over 20 years. The funeral was held at the house Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the services at the grave were in charge of Killington commandery, Knights Templar.

Harold Weale, who was employed by Edward Hardy in South Albany, was shot through the left hand by an unknown man who attempted to hold him up while he was returning from the village the other night.

The condition of E. G. Lydecker of Cambridge, who was injured by falling from a load of hay onto a pitchfork, is very unfavorable, following an operation. The injured man is at the Mary Fletcher hospital, Burlington.

There are several cases of typhoid fever in St. Johnsbury, said to have been caused by the drinking of infected water on Harris hill. A sample of the water has been sent to Burlington for analysis. The sickness is confined to children who drank from the spring while on a picnic at the close of school. While several of them have been critically ill, none are now considered dangerous, so except George, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Aselin. In his case pneumonia has developed and he is in a critical condition in the hospital at Littleton, N. H. The village trustees and health officers have examined the spot and will extend the sewer thirty rods to empty into the river.

The manufacturing concerns of Bennington are still suffering from the prevailing depression, but not so acutely as a few weeks ago. As a rule, more help is employed and the working day has been lengthened. The large mill of Holden, Leonard & Co. is now running five days a week and the mill of the Vermont Hosiery & Machinery Co. has resumed operations after a shut-down of several weeks. The tissue-paper mill of Filmore & Slade will probably resume operations next month. Business with the Torrance & Bottom Co. has increased in a marked degree during the last few weeks. A careful canvass of all the mills shows business to be about seventy-five per cent. of normal. The manufacturers say that the outlook for increased operations is encouraging.

Charged with Abusing Boy.

Lewis Perry, of Lyndonville, was arrested recently on the charge of intolerable severity toward Dwight Spencer, a boy 13 years old, who lives at his home, punishing the boy, it is alleged, in a severe manner because he did not return quickly from doing an errand. The boy's back and arms were covered with black and blue marks, ridges, where the stick hit him, and in other ways showed the effect of hard beating. At hearing Perry was placed under bonds of $300 to appear at county court.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Hairdressing was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff and scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it seeps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample. The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
